Descripción:

An immaculate and very charming one double bedroom apartment in Notting Hill.

An immaculate and very charming one double bedroom apartment in Notting Hill.

This elegant property is wonderfully presented in a sympathetic and contemporary style, combining period features together with modern fittings.

Situated on the first floor of a period conversion, it features excellent ceiling heights throughout and large windows to the front and to the rear. To the front is the generous open plan reception room with two large floor to ceiling windows leading to a balcony. The kitchen area has been thoughtfully designed to blend in discreetly with the character of the room.

The bedroom is situated to the rear of the apartment.

The property is within easy walking distance of the many shops, restaurants and transport links of Queensway, Notting Hill, Westbourne Grove as well as Paddington Station.
