ABOUT THE AREA

Kallikrateia is a municipal unit in Chalkidiki, Greece. Since the 2011 local government reform it is part of the municipality of Nea Proponitida, before which it was a municipality with its seat in the town Nea Kallikrateia. The municipal unit has an area of 108.894 km²

Nea Kallikrateia, or, as locals call it, simply Kallikrateia, is a small city (pop. 6,000) on the Gulf of Thermi about 45 km south of Thessaloniki. Although it's part of Halkidiki, it is not on one of the region's 3 peninsulas. It is very convenient to Thessaloniki, being just a couple kilometers off the main Thessaloniki-Halkidiki highway, and for that reason it gets a lot of visitors from the city during the summer. In fact, it's so close to the big city that it serves as a bedroom community.

By virtue of its proximity to Thessaloniki, Kallikrateia is a favorite destination for day trippers and weekenders, particularly during the summer months. It's also a favorite party destination for young people, who love to go to the local beach bars and night clubs. For others, it's a great place for a relaxing holiday with an opportunity to take a quick trip into the city for sightseeing or entertainment.

The resort offers everything you need for a relaxing and peaceful holiday. There are hotels of various categories, restaurants, medical center and a long beach with fine sand and crystal water.

Nea Kallikratia has a port and offers trips to Sithonia. 12 km from town you can visit the cave of Petralona in which 700,000 years old human and animal remains are exposed. It houses a museum arranged like prehistoric dwelling.
