We have recently taken on a lot of new agents in France who are adding hundreds of new listings every week, there is a delay in translating these listings into English but we are making good progress.

If you want any particular property listing translated or simply want more information then just use the 'Make an Enquiry' button or contact us via the property listing and we will prioritise the translation for you.

Apologies for the triangle overlay on the images, this particular agent is in a very competitive sector and wishes to protect their images from being copied. If you want to see clean images of this listing simply Make an Enquiry and we will respond.

The Loire Atlantique department is part of the Pays de la Loire region and, not surprisingly, is named after the Atlantic and the Loire; the coastline and the principal river.

Loire-Atlantique has the lowest altitude of any region in France with an average of only 1.15m. It has no less than 130 kms of marvellous coastline comprising mainly of beautiful sandy beaches. Between the so-called Cote de Jade and Cote d'Amour, you will find many seaside resorts such as Le Pouliguen, La Baule and Pornichet. The lakes around Briere and the oyster-farming ports are typical of the region and the famous salt lakes of the medieval town of Guerande are well-known for producing the famous Guerande - Fleur de Sel.

Hiking tracks give the opportunity to discover the history that punctuates the landscape and the towns are full of heritage such as the stunning chateau of Ducs de Bretagne in Nantes.

The port of La Turballe is famous for sardine fishing, Batz-sur-Mer for its surfers and La Briere for its 3,000 thatched cottages.
