Garden and Outside

As you arrive at the second of two automated gates, your eyes fixate upon the wonderful Tuscan architecture with its warm Mediterranean tones and 'Gamma-Zenith' clad plaster work, bespoke gates, balustrades, and palm trees accompanied by lush cycads all cocooned in a practical and seemingly simple manner. High perimeter walls guard against wind and winter frost assuring an evergreen lawn and garden throughout the year. Water is supplied via strong well to an irrigation system and the whole property can be watershed within minutes.

Approaching the rear, classic Spanish-style gates enclose the pool area as additional safety for young children and privacy of pets. The 100,000-lt. pool is heated and features additional pumps for jets and -fountain features. Outside shower facilities are also available. Additionally, there is a self-starting/self charging 23KVa backup generator capable of handling all load-shedding inadequacies. For your live-in domestic/cleaning assistant, there is dedicated staff accommodation which includes bedroom and bathroom with shower, basin and toilet.

Garaging and Parking

The automated double 'Saligna Wooden' doors open up to accommodate five large vehicles (Ford Ranger/Toyota Fortuner type) with ample space left over to open all doors without encroaching on one another. The garage also offers a built-in kitchenette if you don't want to mess in the Gourmet Kitchen and a designated workshop with ample storage and work top space to tackle fairly large DIY projects.

Main Entrance and Ground Floor

The double-volume entrance features a stunning 'Carved Glass' piece which embodies the expectations about to be discovered. Vanderbijlpark is one of the industrial centres of Gauteng, just south of the urban metropolis of Johannesburg. Unlike many of its gold-mining neighbours in the Vaal Triangle (which include Vereeniging, Meyerton and Sasolburg), though, this area was established as a residential area for the local steel workers and their families in 1947. Since then, it has flourished and grown, and is now home to the largest steelworks in the southern hemisphere.

Vanderbijlpark was named after a young scientist in America, Dr HJ van der Bijl, who was asked to return to South Africa to plan the industrial development of this country. It was Van der Bijl that oversaw the inauguration of ISCOR (Iron and Steel Corporation), thus proving himself a worthy namesake for this city.

The streets of Vanderbijlpark are lined with hundreds of thousands of tall green trees, which give them a luxurious look and tranquil feel. The Vaal River is another important feature of this city, not only for its enormous proportions and the water that it provides, but also for the many water sports on offer here. Visitors and locals enjoy the regular regattas, boat cruises, and opportunities to boat, ski, fish and swim in pretty surrounds. This river forms the border of Gauteng.

The Vaal Show is held in Vereeniging, less than 30 minutes' drive from Vanderbijlpark. This is an agricultural and entertainment show that is a hot event on the local calendar, and there is little doubt why. Here, a huge agricultural section showcases cattle, birds and horses; while fantastic clothes, jewellery, art and furniture can also be found here. You may even find your next boat on exhibition at this exciting and multifaceted show.

ABOUT THE AREA

For the person coming for a relaxing weekend where everything will be done for you book yourself into one of the three Hotels; Riviera on Vaal, Emerald Casino Resort Hotel or Riverside Hotel & Conference centre. For the more adventurous person there area caravan parks and self catering facilities available along the river.
