ABOUT THE AREA

Morocco is a country of dazzling diversity, from its ancient cities and craggy mountain ranges to rolling deserts and deserted beaches. One day you could be scaling Toubkal, North Africa's highest peak, the next you could be meeting designers in Marrakesh, riding the Atlantic rollers in Essaouira, strolling through the twisting blue alleyways of Chefchaouen, or savoring street food in the medieval medina of Fez.

Bouznika has something for everyone, so whether you're planning to get active on a summer holiday, put a spring in your step with a romantic rendezvous, or pamper yourself with a leisurely winter trip, you'll find plenty of attractions in Bouznika to keep you entertained.

The fabled Red City of Marrakesh is a sensory overload of sights, sounds, and smells. Its ancient medina is a maze of narrow streets with the Djemaa El Fna – arguably Africa's most famous square – at its heart, and its nightly circus of storytellers, snake charmers, and musicians.

In Fez, Morocco's oldest imperial city, time appears to have stopped. Dating back to the 8th century, Fez El Bali – the world's largest living medieval medina – is a jumble of souqs, workshops, and mosques, with a tangle of more than 9,000 narrow alleyways to explore.

Tucked into the green folds of the Rif Mountains, charming Chefchaouen is famed for its blue-hued medina. Soak up its relaxed pace of life exploring its cobbled streets and sipping a mint tea in an open square, then hike the trails of Talassemtane National Park with its luminous waterfalls and forests of fir trees.

Dubbed the 'Wind City of Africa' for its coastal breezes, Essaouira is the perfect spot to take to the water, whatever your ability. Explora is a longstanding, family-run outfit that knows the city's waters inside out and offers windsurfing, kitesurfing and surfing classes, paddleboarding, and gear rentals.
