Description

Santiago Hostel near Tamboril

Tamboril is a charming town near Santiago, Dominican Republic, known for its lush green hills and tobacco plantations.

The Santiago hostel near Tamboril has a warm, welcoming ambiance, blending rustic and traditional elements to reflect the town's rich cultural heritage.

The hostel has a two-story building with a concrete roof, typical of the region. The facade is painted in soft yellow with blue trims. The garden out front features vibrant tropical flowers, such as hibiscus and bougainvillea, along with a few palm trees providing shade.

Lobby and Common Areas of the Santiago Hostel

Upon entering the property, guests find cozy areas in the garden to sit under shady big trees. The walls are adorned with glass art called Mosaic, handmade stained glass for the windows, and lamps as well. A small reception desk, where a friendly host greets guests, is near the entrance. The common areas include a lounge with comfortable seating, where guests can relax and socialize. There is a dining area offering Dominican specialties like 'mangu' for breakfast, with an outdoor terrace providing views of the surrounding area.

Rooms: The guest rooms might be simply yet tastefully decorated, with cool tile floors, beds with crisp white linens, and light curtains that allow the Caribbean breeze to flow through. The rooms have a private entrance, and a private bathroom, and each room has a mini fridge.

Amenities: The hostel offers basic amenities such as free Wi-Fi, air conditioning, and a small kitchen in the main house. There is also a communal kitchen where guests can prepare their meals if they choose. A nice area by the pool offers a BBQ where local delicacies are grilled during the evenings. This creates a communal atmosphere among guests.

Outdoor Spaces: The outdoor area is a highlight, with small courtyards, a basketball court, and a patio where guests can unwind in hammocks and enjoy a drink at sunset. Furthermore, a Parakeet house and many fruit trees such as avocado trees, star fruit, and guava.

Overall, the hostel in Tamboril offers a peaceful and authentic experience, allowing visitors to immerse themselves in the local culture and natural beauty of the Dominican Republic.
