In 2023, Montenegro witnessed a surge in tourism, with a remarkable 2,613,306 arrivals and a total of 16,389,279 overnight stays. Notably, 96.3% of these stays were attributed to tourists, highlighting the significant growth potential within the tourism sector. This growth is particularly evident in Kotor, which recorded an impressive 1,293,632 overnight stays alone.

To capitalize on this burgeoning tourism industry, the Montenegrin government is actively exploring the expansion of building permits, particularly for projects that enhance tourism infrastructure. This initiative aims to address the increasing demand for accommodation and bolster the country's revenue streams. Given its strategic location and proximity to major tourist attractions, Risan is well-positioned to benefit from this policy shift.

To the east of Risan lies Perast, a picturesque village renowned for its 17 Baroque palaces and 19 churches, all nestled within a community of fewer than 500 residents. Further east, the magnificent citadel of Kotor, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, stands as a testament to Montenegro's rich history. This medieval old town, a masterpiece of Venetian defense architecture, is a major port of call for cruise ships, attracting hundreds of thousands of visitors annually. All Offers Considered.
