Just off the Teverina road, nestled amidst enchanting woods and picturesque vineyards, lies a hidden gem of a village, Civitella D'Agliano. With its narrow streets, charming houses, and small loggias, its medieval origins are evident in every corner of the village.

As you wander through its streets, you'll encounter ancient stone buildings adorned with intricate architectural details. The village square is home to a charming church that stands as a testament to the rich cultural heritage of the area.

Perched atop the clay tongues and sandy terrain of the Valle dei Calanchi, this tranquil village offers a haven of silence, vibrant floral colours, and the nostalgic aromas of ancient recipes. It's a place where children still play hide and seek in the alleys, and elderly women gather outside their houses on warm summer evenings for a leisurely chat.

No wonder Civitella D'Agliano has become a muse for artists, attracting painters, sculptors, and filmmakers from all corners of the globe who showcase their works in its beautiful squares during the summer season.

Civitella D'Agliano is a hidden treasure, waiting to be discovered. Whether you're an art lover, a history enthusiast, or simply seeking a peaceful retreat, this medieval village offers an enchanting escape from the hustle and bustle of modern life.
