ABOUT THE AREA

St. Vincent and the Grenadines is a southern Caribbean nation comprising a main island, St. Vincent, and a chain of smaller islands. With yacht-filled harbors, chic private isles and volcanic landscapes, it's known for its major sailing destinations such as reef-lined Bequia Island off Admiralty Bay, bordered by white-sand beaches like Princess Margaret. The main island is home to the capital, Kingstown.

There are 32 islands and cays that make up St. Vincent and the Grenadines (SVG). Nine are inhabited, including the mainland St. Vincent and the Grenadines islands: Young Island, Bequia, Mustique, Canouan, Union Island, Mayreau, Petit St Vincent and Palm Island. The stunning Tobago Cays National Marine Park is also located within SVG. This multi-island Caribbean nation offers a combination of rainforest eco-adventures, scuba diving, classic Caribbean powder-white sand beaches, luxury accommodation and yachting or sailing adventures.

St Vincent and the Grenadines has a strong seafaring history and no visit here is complete without a sailing trip to the Tobago Cays. These five tiny, uninhabited islands, accessible only by boat, boast some of the best sailing and snorkelling in the Caribbean due to the spectacular horseshoe reef that creates a calm lagoon with unbelievably blue water.

There is ample time for snorkelling and swimming on a full day tour and if you're lucky, you may also spot dolphins, whales, turtles and flying fish that frequent the waters here.

You could also charter a private yacht to explore this region, which is, arguably, the most relaxing way to explore. With a crew on board, you can simply laze on the sundeck and watch the islands pass by. Your captain will be able to sail through Tobago Cays, dropping anchor whenever you like. It's possible to spend a day on board, or spend a few nights at sea on a spacious catamaran with en suite staterooms.
