It is said that very Englishman's dream is to own a vineyard in the south of France. Here it is and it comes with a choice of Rolls Royce. This historic estate, built in 1635, is a true pearl of heritage rooted in its Roman origins. Nestling in 7 hectares of parkland, it is distinguished by its stone construction, a noble, local material that gives the building an authentic, timeless character. With 300 m² of living space and the possibility of creating a separate flat, this estate harmoniously combines the elegance of 17th-century architecture with the serenity of an exceptional natural setting. This place steeped in history offers a unique atmosphere.

The department of Hérault is in the Languedoc-Roussillon region located in the south of France. It is surrounded by the Pyrénées-Orientales, Ariège, Tarn and Aude departments.

Widely regarded as possibly the most dynamic department in Languedoc Roussillon with Montpellier as its capital and the popular seaside resorts of Sète and Grande Motte bringing in millions of tourists every summer, the Hérault department is certainly busy and growing.

But despite all the activity along the coast, the interior of Hérault is as beautiful and unspoiled as it has always been. The Hérault countryside is glorious, driving away from the coast into the foothills of the Black Mountains you can get lost in an ocean of vines.

Villages in the department of Hérault are incredibly pretty. Roquebrun is stunning, with its bridge and old water mill on the river Orb. St Guilhem-le-Desert is also beautiful - and one of Languedoc's top tourist spots.

Hérault is also a favourite of Brits looking to move to the area. Pezenas and Lodeve are both popular towns - Pezenas used to be the region's capital and is becoming quite chic.

In short - the department combines beautiful countryside with the buzz and glamour of a major city (Montpellier).
