ABOUT THE AREA

Pinoso, also known locally as El Pinós, is a traditional Spanish town nestled in the mountainous countryside where the Alicante and Murcia provinces meet. This inland municipality in the Costa Blanca region is characterized by its tranquil, rural atmosphere, a departure from the bustling coastal resorts. Pinoso is renowned for its significant production of fine wines, particularly those made from the Monastrell grape, as well as its marble quarries and rock salt deposits, which have historically contributed to the town's prosperity. The landscape surrounding Pinoso is a picturesque blend of vineyards, olive groves, and almond orchards, set against a backdrop of pine-covered mountains, after which the town is named.

The town itself retains an authentic Spanish charm, with its network of narrow streets, traditional houses, and welcoming local community. Pinoso offers a range of amenities for its residents, including shops, restaurants, schools, and a 24-hour medical center, ensuring a comfortable and convenient lifestyle. Cultural life in Pinoso is vibrant, with numerous fiestas and celebrations throughout the year, providing opportunities to experience local traditions and customs. The town's clock tower, built in the late 19th century, stands as a prominent landmark and a symbol of Pinoso.

Despite its inland location, Pinoso is within reasonable driving distance of the Costa Blanca's beautiful beaches, typically around a 45-minute drive. This allows residents to enjoy the tranquility of rural living while still having access to the coastal attractions. The surrounding area offers opportunities for outdoor activities such as hiking and cycling in the scenic landscapes. Pinoso has also become increasingly popular with expatriates seeking a more authentic Spanish experience away from the main tourist crowds, drawn by its relaxed pace of life and strong sense of community.

For those considering visiting or residing in Pinoso, accessibility by air is convenient via two main airports. The closest is Alicante-Elche Airport (ALC), located approximately 44 kilometers (around a 45-minute drive) to the east of Pinoso. This is a major international airport with numerous connections to European and other destinations. Another viable option is Murcia International Airport (RMU), situated about 68 kilometers to the southwest of Pinoso, offering additional flight options. Both airports provide car rental services and other transport links to reach Pinoso.
