Pinar de Campoverde is a small village located at the foot of the Sierra de Escalona mountain range, nine kilometres from Pilar de la Horadada borough council, in the province of Alicante, Spain. The town has around 3000 inhabitants and is ten kilometres from the Mediterranean coastline.

ABOUT THE AREA

El Pinar de Campoverde (most commonly known as Campoverde) is a village set on a wooded hillside at the foot of the Sierra de Escalona mountains, 10 kms inland from Pilar de la Horadada with good views to the Mediterranean Sea. The population of 3,000 residents include many northern European residents (known as expats) living here. It is also a handy base for a holiday away from the busy coast.

The translation of the name El Pinar de Campoverde, means forest and green fields. The town is situated 20 minutes drive from Murcia (San Javier) Airport and less than 1 hour from Alicante. To the south west of the village is the famous Rio Seca Natural Park where you can walk along the (usually dry!) bed of the river. There is a spectacular gorge carved by the waters over millennia through the yellow sandstone.

The centre of Campoverde has several bars, restaurants, a supermarket and a bank. There is a small street market on Sunday mornings.

There is a new 20,000m2 sports area with several tennis courts, basketball, football and a large public swimming pool. 15 minutes drive from Pinar de Campoverde takes you to several beaches; with 4kms of sandy beaches stretching from El Mojon to Mil Palmeras, including a small, pretty cove at Torre de la Horadada where there is also a marina.

International cuisine is available in the village. Further afield you can enjoy the varied gastronomy of the region, which is heavily based on rice and seafood. Pinar de Campoverde enjoys a typical Mediterranean climate, very hot in summer and protected by surrounding mountains against the cold north winds in winter. The area averages nearly 3,000 hours of sunshine each year and the average temperature easily exceeds 20 degrees.

The Province of Alicante is in the Valencia region of southeastern Spain. It's known for bustling seaside resorts and Mediterranean beaches along its coast, the Costa Blanca. The province's capital city Alicante is home to the hilltop medieval castle of Santa Bárbara. Its many beaches include San Juan, lined with restaurants and bars. To the north, the seaside resort of Benidorm is known for its boisterous nightlife
